Dedicated to Karen Toland

May 20, 1993

"Dying before my time of cancer certainly was not my choice, but my illness has been a great teacher. I've learned to take better care of myself and put myself first, something that is difficult for many women. I've learned to stand up for myself. Strangely, one of my hardest lessons was learning to accept the help and love that poured out in my direction. I think I got pretty good at both accepting the help and asking for it, too.

Perhaps the most important thing I've learned is that all we have is right now. This instant. This day. Cherish that.

Love is what I held on to through all my difficulties and treatments. The love of my children, my family, my friends and colleagues is what sustained me through those times. Thank you for your love. Love is, in the end, what it is all about."

A FRIEND OF MINE ONCE SAID THAT THE WORLD WAS IMPERFECT. SO JUST AS USUAL I REPLIED, NO PROBLEM, I'LL CHANGE IT. FOR YOU NO MOON WAS TOO LARGE, OR STAR TOO DISTANT. FOR ME NO MOUNTAIN WAS TOO TALL, NOR RIVER TOO WIDE. FOR THEN WE WERE YOUNG AND UNABLE TO SEE, BLINDED BY INNOCENCE AND TRUTH. THOUGH I TRIED MY BEST AND LOVED TO THE FULLEST. I DID NOT UNDERSTAND, AND NEITHER DID THEY THAT I LIKE YOU, AM JUST LIKE THE REST. — NEVER FORGET ME. SOME HAVE A STYLE THAT THEY WORK HARD TO REFINE SO THEY WALK A CROOKED LINE. OLD MAN SITTING IN A LEATHER CHAIR: A STILL LIFE Face resting upon the hide of long ago sacrificed soul — from that one orgasmic moment — he began tripping backwards through the eternities of universes unknown . . .
through the dawning of creation or the expansion of molecules and beginning of darkness. Wrapped in a quilt of dinosaurs and a sheet cracked with age, wondering how the frost dances across the moonlit table without shattering thoughts, his agnostic being creaked and ached like a tree full of history in the crystalline wind. As the dark cave howled silence, small yet brilliant lights could be seen behind glass yellowed with fluids and tainted by time.

Field Hockey 1-4, Gymnastics 1-3. Jason — you came into my life my junior year, and I knew at that moment you were something special. You kissed me once at high school dance, I knew at that moment that it was romance. All the time we spent together made that the best year ever. You have taught me how to love and be loved. You made me grow up! You're the biggest part of my life and that won't change. I'll never forget endless hours of basketball in Welfleet, and walking on the beach you made my summer so special. I love you more than the world and believe you me I'll make you believe things do last forever. I love you and I know we'll make it last! Mom Dad thanx for everything, I love you. I Got it Ren. As children we have no cares. But as life goes on it eventually gets complicated. There are friends that come and there are friends that go, always like silver and gold. But life never can be taken to serious, 'cause if your to serious you'll lose precious time in life. So stand in the rain without an umbrella, swim naked in the lake, and dance like it's the first time u danced. Hannah E., Sen, Jerry, Zac, Dan, Sue, Kermie and Gina, I've learned from all of you. Don't ever change! and no the rest "One more time" I'd love to touch the sky tonight, so take me in your arms and lift me like a child and hold me up so high and never let me go. Take me in your arms tonight. Hold me up so high and never let me down, to touch the sky just one more time. — Robert Smith —

CLASS HISTORY '94

On the first day of high school we had the overwhelming campus to ourselves. However, we were not alone for long. The next day was our first real taste of high school because then we were joined by the rest of the students. The transition was frightening for many as we fell from the top of the heap to the bottom of the barrel. We were intimidated by the upperclassmen, and curious as to what the next four years would bring. As the year rolled on we became more comfortable and confident in our environment. We celebrated our first homecoming with the theme, "On the Edge of A Dream". Our Lord and Lady were Ben Masterson and Erika Kloumann. By the end of the year we were found enjoying all aspects of high school life, from dances and parties to sports and fundraisers.

In September of 1991 we came back to Nauset a year older and more mature. We were no longer at the bottom of the heap, we had moved up a notch. We were a lot more familiar with the campus then we were at the beginning of the previous year. As sophomores, our major fundraiser was the magazine drive. We were very successful and we added the proceedings to our treasury which we would use for future purposes. Homecoming '91 was celebrated around the theme, "Under the Sea". Our dutch and duchess were Dan Langhans and Rebecca Harrison. Right before our eyes, another year was over and another graduation past. High school was half over, but the best was yet to come.

We were finally upperclassmen with one year to go before college. Planning the future was not on all of our minds. The year began with the annual homecoming, "A Night on the Town". Nena Mañach was our princess and Chris White our prince. This was the year that our sports team met their goals and placed Nauset High School on the map. The drama club shined in their production of Brigadoon. It was up to us, the junior class, to pay for and decorate the gym for graduation. After witnessing this graduation we realized that a year from then it would be our class receiving the diploma.

At last we were seniors. Our high school years were coming to a rapid close. We had our annual Homecoming festivities under the theme Chinatown with Christopher Crema and Rebecca Harrison crowned King and Queen. The pressure was on with many deadlines that would determine our academic future. Finally, we narrowed down our choices and decided where we wanted to spend the next four years of our lives. It was time to relax and get ready for senior banquet and prepare for prom. It was finally graduation and the end had arrived.

"This is the time to remember cause it will not last forever these are the days to hold on to but we won't although we'll want to." — Billy Joel

In four years at Nauset we went from naive freshmen to secure seniors. Our years here have been filled with memories that we will want to cherish forever. As we walk out the school doors for the last time we will take our high school years with us no matter where we go they will always be in our thoughts. Even though we will want to hold on to the days when the dreams are lost, they will always be a part of our lives.
